ONTARIO FRUIT CROP REPORT

According to the fruit and vegetable crop report issued by the Fruit Commissioner's Branch, Ottawa, July 4th, a good crop of all varieties of peaches is practically assured in the Niagara District, but the quantity will not be so great as in previous years of good crops. Special note is made of the fact that after thorough inquiry into the report of heavy damage to fruit by hail in the Niagara district on July 4th, the Chief Fruit Inspector for the district wired the Fruit Branch as follows: "News-paper reports a damage done to crop by hail storm, greatly exaggerated. Damage confined to small area near Niagara Falls and loss not serious." Reports from the Essex and Lambton districts indicate a good crop of peaches.

Prospect for Plums

Plums will be a heavy crop through out the Niagara district, though a lot dropped during the wind storm of June 21 and some are not developing very well; gages promise especially well; Japans, very heavy, except Abundance. Plums promise a good crop in the district between Hamilton and Toronto and in Western Ontario generally, including the Georgian Bay district a full crop is expected. Prince Edward County, on the contrary, has a very light crop of plums.

Pears, particularly Bartlett's, will be a light crop in the Niagara district, except near Niagara-on-the-Lake, where Bartlett's promise well. Between Hamilton and Toronto Bartlett pears are very light; Clapp's Favorite, fair; Keffler, light and Anjou, fair to good. At Leamington pears are a fair crop. Trenton reports pears light to very light.

It is too early to give a close estimate of the grape crop but present indications are of a crop of 60 to 65 per cent. of the average. In the Burlington district, prospects are from fair to good. The same report comes from Niagara-on-the-Lake. At Port Dalhousie the appearance of vineyards is very good. At St. Catharines most vineyards have made a splendid growth and are in a good state of cultivation, promising a fair to good crop.

PROCLAMATION CIVIC HOLIDAY

I hereby proclaim Wednesday, August 4th, 1920 as CIVIC HOLIDAY for the VILLAGE of GRIMSBY.

FRUIT THIEVES BUST

Fruit thieves are again active in the eastern portion of the township and apparently no effort is being made by the township authorities to curtail their activities.

On Monday night a well known grower wended his way out into his cherry orchard about eight o'clock and found to his amazement two men and four women busy picking his cherries. They had four or five baskets filled and were busy filling an orange box. He corralled them and gave them the alternative of paying for the fruit or leaving it. They left it.

The thieves were strangers to the grower and he was too far away from his house at the time to telephone Chief Konkle or get assistance to hold the culprits.

It is high time that this pilfering was stopped and it is up to our local authorities to stop it.

BUYING RIGHT OF WAY

Beamsville, July 14—The right of way for the Hydro radial railway is being bought up between St. Catharines and Beamsville. The property owners are now signing agreements for the transfer of the right of way to the Hydro Electric power Commission of Ontario. Practically all transactions have been closed east of here to St. Catharines, except for the handling over of the deeds and cash. It is expected that the movement to acquire the right of way west of here for the line will be launched almost immediately. This work was approved by the Hearst Government.

ST. ANDREWS CHURCH MEMORIAL

The Committee in charge of the Memorial Monument to be erected in the church-yard of Old St. Andrews Church, in grateful recognition and honor of the members of the Church who gave their lives in the Great War, have considered a great many proposed designs—and after considerable work have at last decided upon a most suitable and appropriate monument to be erected.

Estimates are now being prepared and working plans gotten ready and the Committee will be in a position very shortly, to announce full particulars to the parishioners; and the method of collection under which the erection of this Memorial will be effected.

Parishioners and the interested public are invited to "Be Prepared" and to contribute unspangly to this work.

NEW HOTEL AT LAKESIDE

Buffalo and Cleveland Capitalists See Big Future and Step Forward To Meet It—Lakeside Gardens at Grimsby East Scene of Activities—Streets Graded and Gravelled—Club House Nearing Completion.

Along about 1488 John and Sebastian Cabot discovered Canada. A few years later GRIMSBY was discovered, and consistent boosting added to the natural beauty and advantages of the district has brought GRIMSBY to the notice of many people. Among the latest to take notice of GRIMSBY is a coterie of Buffalo and Cleveland capitalists who have learned of Lakeside Gardens in GRIMSBY East and realize some of the advantages of the neighborhood. They have bought practically the whole east side of the new subdivision with 135 feet frontage on the lake front and a depth of over 800 feet. The purchase includes 18 lots on the east side of Second Avenue, nine on the west side and the big frontage on the lake.

On the lake front it is the intention to erect a large hotel and build it in such a way that it will be an all-the-year-round incentive to tourists to visit here. The plans call for a reinforced concrete building for the hotel, the erection of a gas plant and an exceedingly large greenhouse. The gas plant will be erected at the extreme east side of the property and will use a comparatively new process for making cooling and heating gas from crude oil, the quantity being sufficient to supply all the needs of that section. The greenhouse will be put up on the south side of the property and is for the purpose of supplying the hotel with tomatoes and other vegetables during the off seasons. It is also intended to raise violets for the New York market and to use electricity for the forcing of the greenhouse products.

The club house at Lakeside Gardens is rapidly nearing completion and is drawing the attention of all visitors to the Beach, and what with the many other new buildings being erected on Park Road and Lakeside Gardens it is making a busy scene.

Who said that "Keeping Everlastingly At It Brings Success?" Whoever it was he knew what he was talking about. It was advertising that he spoke of and his statement has been verified many, many times. FACTS AND FANCIES

By Frank Fairborn

A Nice Piece of Road-work

The Vineland Stone Road, from the Provincial Highway to the Lake has been recently resurfaced under Superintendent Turnbull, and is now one of the most beautiful roads in the County to drive over.

The resurfacing consisted of a layer of two-inch stones followed by a layer of one-inch stone, then a layer of stone dust; all of which was thoroughly rolled in and finished up in good shape.

Although this road has a very heavy automobile traffic and some truck traffic to carry, yet there is not sufficient to cut it up and destroy it, as would be done on a similar stretch of road on the Highway; and the Vineland Road will probably remain in good shape for several years.

Highway Engineers Gradually "Coming To"

The engineers and foremen on the Provincial Highway are just beginning to realize the benefits of good heavy oil and stone chips for road repairing.

Had they known as much two years ago as they know now about road-repairing, the Provincial Highway would have been kept in good shape at one-quarter the cost, and the balance of the money (that has been wasted) could have been applied to the building of permanent road.

The repairing of the road with ordinary water-bound stone-macadam, as has been done in several places this year, is, to great extent, a waste of money as the repairers have to follow the contractors immediately; and the only thing that saves these newly constructed pieces of road from utter destruction is a demoralization is oil—heavy oil if applied soon enough; and oil and stone chips if applied later.

More Money Thrown Away.

The heavy bed of stone foundation which was constructed, at great cost, during the past nine months between the Tarvia road at Vineland, and the Village of Beamsville, a distance of about four miles, bids fair to be greatly injured by the traffic before the dilatory Department of Public Works and Highways, Ontario, gets the permanent road completed by putting on a surface, either of tarvia or cement.

In the meantime the travelling public have to bump over four miles of rough stone road, without any surface-material, whatever.

The general public is at a loss to know what is the matter with the Department:

Their Forte !!

As hot-air-shooters at picnics and other public gatherings, where their remarks about road building can be printed in the daily papers, they are a huge success.

As road-builders to provide decent accommodation for the travelling public they are a dismal failure.

No Results !

The Drury Government has spent thousands upon thousands of dollars on road-work since the first of April, this year, and in scarcely any instance is the road any better than when they commenced;—but the money is gone and the travelling public is still bumping along over rough roads—and apparently no move, whatever, is being made to start the construction of permanent roads.

Ignorance !!

I can attribute this to no cause, whatever, except extreme ignorance of the subject of road-building.

The Department of Public Works, and Highways, Ontario has not yet realized that gangs of men, shoals of teams, innumerable stone wagons, road-rollers in plenty, excavators and steam shovels in profusion, and tons upon hundreds of tons of broken stone, do not constitute road-building—what they have constituted, up to date, is road-obstruction, and useless waste of money.

The "Public Be Damned" Spirit Prevails

In no instance that has come under my observation, and I ride over the Highway probably more than any other man in the County of Lincoln, has there been the slightest effort on the part of the engineers or any foreman, to give the public the lightest degree of service—no provision, whatever, being made for the convenience or safety of the travelling public at spots where road reconstruction is going forward.

Automobiles loaded with people; trucks loaded with women and children heavy trucks loaded with tons of freight and express, are allowed to bump over bumps and hollows and in and out of mudholes and around through fence corners and over ditches, without the slightest effort being made, by the road-foremen, to make the road passable or safe.

In fact it would appear, to the traveller, that every effort was being made by the road-foremen to discourage and annoy and injure the travelling public.

When automobiles and trucks get stuck and bog down and break down—through the condition of the road—and the drivers work and worry for hours to get out of the holes and ditches and ruts left by the road-builders, it seems a source of amusement to the men employed on the job—these wasters failing to realize that the people who suffer these annoyances and damages, are paying their salaries.

Higgs and MacLean Responsible—and Ignorant

W. A. McLean, and the Hon. F. C. Higgs are the men who are responsible for this insufferable state of affairs; on account of the fact that they are making no effort, whatever, to keep in touch with what is going on along the Highway.

They are in complete ignorance of the annoyances and dangers the public have to put up with, and they are making no effort to become acquainted with the facts—and, therefore, these men are entirely unqualified for the positions they hold and should resign and let competent, painstaking men take their places.

The Old Axiom Applies—

It is a well-known axiom that "ignorance or drunkenness is no excuse for a breach of the law"—and this axiom can be very appropriately applied to the Minister, and Deputy Minister of Public Works and Highways, Ontario.

If they are ignorant, it is no excuse. If they are drunk, it is no excuse. The public is paying them big salaries for service and are not receiving service; and to say they are ignorant of, and inexperienced in road-building, is no excuse whatever.

Could Consult Public Safety, At Least.

If these Ministers are ignorant of the proper methods of road-construction to carry heavy traffic, they at least could be considerate of the public who are paying their salaries, and who are putting up the money that is being wasted; by at least enforcing a rule that the foremen should keep the roads of road, and the worse the mudholes, the public have to travel through and around, culverts and ditches and road-construction should be made safe and reasonably fit for traffic.

As it is it would appear, the bigger the dumps, the deeper the ditches, and the worse the mudholes, the public have to travel through and around, the better pleased are the foremen and engineers.

Never Fail to Draw Their Pay—

The only thing these men fail to do, is to draw their salaries, be it wet or dry, have they worked or been idle.

I doubt if the men on the Highway have lost a moment's time in three months—every day must count a full day, and every week a full week, for that means, you know, a full day at the end of the week—and if all these men were as particular in service, the public would receive a great deal better deal in the shuffle than they now receive.

Irresponsible Reports from Ottawa written by irresponsible reporters at Ottawa amuse me to read the Ottawa Government and Cabinet.

These irresponsible reporters seem to be in a terrible stew about the way in which the new Premier, Hon. Arthur Meighen, is going about his work.

According to them, any other way but the Meighen way would be the right way.

All sorts of fault is found about bye-elections, and side-stepping bye-elections, and the selecting of old members of the Cabinet to the new Cabinet, and everything else in sight.

What do these men want? What better could the work be done, if they, and the newspapers behind them, were in full charge?

The whole of these tirades of abuse are induced by spiteful political feeling.

No Public Politics

The public-at-large has lost its politics; but a few newspapers are still clinging to the old Grip and Tory.

The "Globe"—Yapper—

The "Globe" yapped at Borden like a Scotch terrier yapping at the heels of a Durham bull, ever since the end of the war, because he did not resign, or because he did not dissolve Parliament and go to the country; and now that Borden has resigned and another man has taken his place, the "Globe" and its irresponsible Ottawa representatives continue to yap—and I expect they will continue to yap until Parliament is dissolved and the country again gives the Liberal party a most thorough beating which, it, no doubt, will do.

The next Parliament in Canada will, in all probability be a Group Parliament made up of Farmers, Labor-men, Conservatives and Liberals—and outside of the Province of Quebec the Liberals will be small potatoes.

Lost Its Grip

The Toronto "Globe" has degenerated from its position as a leader of public opinion, or even as a leader of thought in its own party.

What Is Its Point?

The "Globe" has preached about "Liberalism" and "True Liberalism" and the "New Liberalism" until the people are beginning to laugh and say "What is Liberalism?"—and I defy the Toronto "Globe" or any Liberal in the Dominion of Canada to explain, successfully, what "Liberalism" stands for.

As a matter of fact there is not such a thing in politics.

The Liberal party today does not stand for a single solitary platform, or plank in a platform, that the rank and file of the common people would endorse and as a matter of fact the Liberal party has not a well-defined and outstanding platform or plank of any kind.

No Desire For Election

The Liberal party, as a party, does not want an election—the "wise" ones in the party know what would happen were there an election.

But still the "Globe" keeps harping on about an election, and about the "drifting policy" of the Government, and yet through the conduct of the war, the "Globe" does not lay its finger on any one small, definite, immoral act on the part of the Government—but the "Globe" keeps to generalities and continues to throw mud in the hope that some of it will stick.

A Difference Easily Seen—in Men

To show the difference between the calibre of the Editor of the "Globe" and the Editor of the Toronto "Mail & Empire" one has read the editorials appearing in these two papers following the retirement of the Right Hon. Sir R. L. Borden, and the Hon. N. W. Rowell.

Following the retirement of Premier Borden, the "Globe" printed the most scurrilous editorial I have ever seen in any newspaper that pretends to be decent, printed in a decent community.

Nothing but undying spite and spleen could have dictated such an editorial. No excuse could be found for the writing of such an editorial, except the fact that Sir Robert Borden was a Conservative and a most successful Premier and statesman.

Following the retirement of the Hon. N. W. Rowell, an editorial was printed in the "Mail & Empire" that would do any decent man good, to read.

It pointed out the good qualities of Mr. Rowell. It referred to his energetic, painstaking, hard-working abilities. It referred to his long and brilliant fight for prohibition in Ontario, and his splendid fight for the benefit of Canada in the Dominion House.

Every word in it was true—and every word was a credit to the man who wrote it.

The "Mail & Empire" had just as much reason to abuse and vilify the Hon. N. W. Rowell, life-long Liberal, as the "Globe" had to abuse and vilify the Right Hon. Sir R. L. Borden—but the Editor of the "Mail & Empire" was not playing politics to the detriment of his country and his Government, and the Editor of the "Globe" was.

A Fresh Disease on the "Globe"

Now, the "Globe" has broken out in a new place.

It comes out in an editorial, and abuses Sir Edward Carson, a man big enough to swallow the Editor of the "Globe" and all his satellites.

In the eyes of the Editor of the "Globe", instead of Sir Edward Carson being the sturdy, outspoken defender of the British Empire and British institutions that he is, he is a low-down scoundrel trying to dismember the British Empire—because he will not allow the villainous Sinn Fein brigands and murderers to smash the Empire and menace all British institutions.

No Place in Canada for Him

The Fenian Editor of the Toronto "Globe" has no proper place in Canada. His home should be in Munster, where he could have full-swing for his qualities—maining cattle by night, burning houses over peoples heads; shooting men in the back from ambush; destroying property and seeking to tear down the British Empire and British institutions by every unlawful method that a brain could invent or an evil disposition carry out.

The only consolation about the Sinn Fein movement is that its viciousness will defeat its ends—and it will, in time, instead of being a curse to Great Britain, and British institutions, prove to be a curse to the country it pretends to be fighting for—Ireland.

A Wolf in Sheep's Clothing

The Editor of the "Globe", like the leader of the Sinn Fein movement, is a wolf in sheep's clothing—pretending to be a Briton, and yet scheming day and night to destroy the British Empire and British institutions.

The Editor of the "Globe" is shouting "Liberalism" with one side of his mouth, and applauding and advising terrorism and murder and slaughter with the other side of his mouth.

In Germany he would be shot and his newspaper publishing house burned to the ground—but in British Territory he has freedom to vilify and insult and destroy every British institution he wishes to tackle.

A Comparison

Sir Edward Carson and men of his type have made the Province of Ulster one of the brightest gems in the British Crown—the leaders of the Sinn Fein and men of their type have converted the rest of Ireland into a veritable Mexico—more country than Turkey—a less civilized country than the land ruled by the savages in Eastern Africa.

There is no country in existence in the world today—not even Mexico—where life and property is as unsafe as it is in Ireland under the Sinn Fein terror—and yet the Editor of the Toronto "Globe" sits in his comfortable office in Toronto—the Queen City of Canada and backs up and supports the Fenians who are destroying Ireland and seeking to destroy the British Empire—that surely is a case of "stinging the bee" and "that warns you."

HOT WEATHER COOKING

One point about summer diet can hardly be too much emphasized. Unfortunately it is the delicate foods like fish and chicken which are very very apt to develop ptomaine poisons in warm weather. No care can be too excessive in guarding against this form of food poisoning. The least suspicion of staleness should be cause for condemnation. There are even such careful housekeepers that they will not even cook chicken pie in the fireless cooker, and will not make chicken pie with a closed crust. But we are told both may be done with impunity provided the food is not left in the cooker until it has pretty well cooled off; or that the pie with the closed crust is not put aside to get cold for the picnic before good air-openings are made while the crust is hot.

Ptomaines are curious things and physicians have not yet learned very much about them, so it is well to be on the safe side of caution. One thing should be remembered—that they are not destroyed by heat as are germs, once the ptomaine is developed it is likely to be there to stay, that is a fish that is stale will not be safe to eat even after it is cooked. This is a most salient reason for not purchasing the cooked crab or lobster that are so frequently displayed in the fish shops.

CORN AND BEANS IN THE CAN

There are certain fundamental precautions to be observed in canning corn, and no amount of after care can correct the results if these are neglected. Corn loses its sweetness on standing, and if you can old, starchy corn, it will not improve in the can, and it is very difficult to keep it from spoiling. Be sure that the corn is young and tender and have it as fresh as possible.

Again, most products shrink under processing but corn swells, and therefore, the jars should not be packed tightly. Leave half an inch to an inch (pints and quarts) for the swelling of the starch grains.
It has been suggested that only loosely packed jars be used in canning anything by the usual home methods, as such a pack insures a higher temperature in the centre of the jar, which otherwise may be below the boiling point. The importance of the depth of the water bath must also be emphasized. All advocates of the cold pack method insist that the water be well above the top of the jar, (one to three inches) and be kept there.

Blanching and cold dipping are important to insure initial cleanliness and some shrinkage before packing, thus giving a fuller jar at the end of the operation.

There is danger in canning that the processing time will be counted when water is not actually boiling, whether the cans are set into boiling water or at a lower temperature, be sure that the time of processing is only counted from the time that the water boils, and that the heat does not fall if you are using other than a gas or oil stove. Only the time of boiling counts in the sterilizing.

Good materials, quick, cleanly work (not ordinary visible kitchen cleanliness but the bacteriological cleanliness of the laboratory), and a faithful following of directions will give just as good results with the cold-pack, one-period method as with the intermittent method which is much more laborious, especially in handling large quantities, and is apt not to give an overcooked product.

The difficulty with flat sour in string beans often accompanies the use of too old and too large a product. Catch the beans as small, young and fresh as possible. Cut them diagonally into two-inch lengths if larger beans must be used.
Also for these the addition of a hot brine made by boiling a very little over two ounces of salt in one gallon of water is suggested.

All of one's care is vain unless good rubbers are used. Do not try to economize by using last year's rubbers or cheap ones—it may cost you your whole pack.

Special Directions for Canning Corn

Remove husk and silk. Blanch by placing the ears of corn in boiling water for five minutes. Dip quickly in cold water (never allow the corn to soak) and cut at once from the cob, packing in hot sterilized jars, and placing them in the canner one by one. Do not let some stand while others are being packed. Add boiling water to overflowing, one teaspoonful of salt, put on the rubbers and the cover partially sealed. (Give half a turn to the left with a Mason jar and leave the side clamp up with the other types.

Be sure the water is three inches over the top of the jars and keep the jars immersed throughout the process.
Bring to a boil and keep boiling for three hours in a water bath; with a water seal canner give two hours;
with five pounds of steam pressure, ninety minutes and with ten to fifteen pound pressure one hour.

On taking the can from the canner complete the seal, invert and cool in a place where there is no draft to cause breakage. Store in a cool and dark place.

Special Directions for Canning String Beans

String and sort string beans carefully, so that large and small beans will not be mixed. Blanch in live steam rather than in boiling water.
Suspend in cheesecloth bag or in sieve over boiling water and cover for five to ten minutes. Dip quickly in cold water (use a piece of ice in water, if possible). Pack at once in hot, sterilized jars, fill to overflowing with hot water and add one teaspoonful of salt, or fill with brine made by boiling a very little over two ounces of salt in one gallon of water. Place rubbers (kept standing in hot water) and tops in position, make partial seal and place in can-ner submerged at least three inches.

Process for two hours in the water bath—90 minutes in the water seal, 60 minutes under five pounds of steam pressure and 40 minutes under 10 pounds pressure.

If the intermittent method is used process for three days one hour each day, tightening seal when taken from canner and partially loosening it again when it is replaced for renewed processing. Same time for corn.

AMUSING THE SICK CHILD

Every mother and nurse who has had the care of a child during the trying period of convalescence knows that the time is sure to come when he will want some new entertainment.

First among the things which hold a child's interest is story-telling. A tale well told will hold his attention much better than if read from a book, as the telling makes it more real to him. He can be interested for a long time by making up a story in which he is to take part. As a beginner, let him guess the names of all the animals he can think of whose names begin with "A", then "B" and so on.

Then tell him a story about some of these animals. The story can be very simple and yet in connection with the guessing will interest the child.

If one can contrive to keep a child busy and interested without allowing him to become over-tired, then the battle is won. That means always that new things must be brought forward when the old one begins to pall.

Stringing beads and asking them in to chains and bracelets will always amuse him for a while.

One child spent several happy days playing with colored modelling wax.
He rolled it out with a long rolling pin, stuck toothpicks along for trolley poles and strung them with heavy cotton.

Many children will find delight in handling different colored papers and combining the colors; also in pasting pictures and postcards into a scrapbook. A scrapbook can be easily made by folding wrapping paper and sewing it into booklets.

Food catalogues and magazines can also be used. Have the child cut these out neatly and paste them in a circle on a piece of heavy paper, thus making a wreath with which the wall may be decorated.

Uncolored pictures found in magazines and a box of crayons will while away the time pleasantly.

From the colored covers of magazines, picture puzzles may be made.
After mounting these on cardboard, cut them into irregular pieces, which the child can reconstruct. The smaller child the larger the pieces of the puzzle should be cut.

Simple map-tracing by means of thin paper and the transparent slate, with its simple pictures, will also find its place.

A little girl domestically inclined may play housekeeping. Supply her with a cardboard box and a furniture catalogue. The lid of the box may be used for partitioning the rooms. Then after cutting out the furniture she can place it in the different rooms. By making slits in the box the furniture may be inserted so it will stand upright.

home cook to bone most of the joints of meat which she cooks, and the economy of this plan soon becomes evident. Not only can a piece of meat be carved more easily and to greater advantage if there are no bones, but the bones themselves, when well boiled, yield a more nourishing stock for soup-making than if they had been cooked with the joint.

A break in the big water main on Main street Wednesday night caused a shortage of water to the residents for a few hours. The break was located and fixed in quick time. After it was fixed water still continued to pour into the hole and for a while it had the Supt. of works guessing, until work foreman Smith discovered that the flow was coming from a small spring.

W. L. Jackson of Niagara Falls reported to Chief Konkle on Thursday night that while motoring east, about two miles West of the town his car was run into by a car driven by Stanley Carpenter, ridge road, Saltfleet, damaging the running board, fender and wheel of the Jackson car. According to Jackson Carpenter who was also coming east, turned out to go by him but did not clear his car and a collision was the result.

When the Boy Scouts Bugle Band came down the street on Thursday night the natives were treated to a spectacular piece of bass drumming the like of which has never been seen before. Archie Bierg the bass drummer of the band like all good drummers uses two sticks and he has been highly complimented on his use of them. On Thursday night he introduced a new stunt, in that instead of using the two sticks he twirled the drum upside down and through the air and beat with one stick. This is the first time that a drummer has been known to twirl the drum around and keep on beating. His work is good.

James Stoddart of the County Motors returned on Thursday last from a 1400 mile trip through the New England States. He was driving a Baby Grand Chevrolet touring car and never had a stop of any kind for tire or engine trouble, his only stops being made for gas and oil. He filled the car with water when leaving GRIMSBY and only put in one gallon more during the whole trip. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stoddart and family.

The Firemen have made arrangements with the County Motors Limited, C. E. Miller and others to run auto busses to Welland on Wednesday, August 4th Civic Holiday to the Firemen's Demonstration to be held there on that date. The arrangements so far have not all been completed but it is probable that the fare will be $1.00 for the round trip. Further particulars will be published next week and the Firemen are issuing posters for the event.

A special meeting of North GRIMSBY Council was held on Thursday night when the question of the G. T. R. providing a switch at the GRIMSBY East Station came up for consideration. The railway company will build a switch if the township will supply the land for it. The switch would be installed, running East from the Park road, and would necessitate the buying of quite a sizable strip of land from Beverly Brook. The question will be gone into further.

Several big novelty features are to be introduced to the dance loving public during the next six weeks by "Curley" Finkle of the Beach Dance Hall. The first one will be on Friday night of this week when a grand Masquerade dance will be held. On July 30th the kiddies of the Beach and District will be entertained by Finkle and his staff in the afternoon between the hours of three and seven. There will be games and dancing for the kids, balloons galore and a lot of other features. It is free to all the kiddies.

It is not often that residents in this fruitful district of ours have the pleasure of seeing or eating blue berries but customers to the Quality Grocery, on Thursday of last week had this pleasure. The blue berry is not grown in this district being a product of the Northern portion of Ontario and Muskoka, where it grows wild and is picked for shipping and consumption by the Indians and settlers. J. P. Robertson in his usual go ahead manner had a consignment shipped in last week and they were of the finest quality and were quickly bought up by Mrs. Housewife.

CORN SMUT

(Experimental Farms Note)
The smut of corn is well known to farmers. The smut masses which usually appear as swollen, outgrowths may be found on the ear, stem or leaves. These outgrowths are sometimes quite large and make the smut very conspicuous. They are at first covered by a thin membrane, which soon breaks away and exposes the black mass of spores. The mass soon becomes powdery and the myriads of spores which each mass contains are readily blown about by the wind. It is these spores that spread the disease during the growing season and carry the smut over the winter to the next crop.

In many of the smuts, as the smut of oats and the stinking smut or bunt of wheat, the spores get on the seed and when the seed is planted begin growing with it and attack the young seedling. Treatment with a solution of formaldehyde is effective in killing the spores on the seed and preventing infection of the young plants. In the cases of the loose smut of wheat and the loose smut of barley the spores are blown about at blossoming time and grow into the very young seed. The hot water treatment of the seed is used to kill the smut inside the seed. In the case of corn smut seed treatment of any kind has been found to be of no use, as the smut spores live over in the soil or in manure rather than in or on the seed. So the only way to control the corn smut is to prevent the smut spores getting into the soil or the manure. Not only do the spores live in the manure pile for some time but they may actually increase rapidly in number if the conditions are favorable.

Corn smut is found in all parts of Canada where corn is grown, but is more common in Eastern Canada. Generally it is not very prevalent and the losses are not great. Where it is common measures should be taken to prevent its spread. The smut masses should be cut out during the growing season. They should be removed before they have broken open and spread their spores. They should not be left lying where they may reach manure or refuse and be carried back to the soil but they should be gathered and burned. Rotation of crops is also valuable in preventing corn smut. The smut does not live long in the soil and will not attack any other crop, so time should be given for the smut to die out in the soil before another crop of corn is planted. Seed treatment has not been found to be of

HOT-WEATHER RULES FOR HORSES

1. Load lightly and drive slowly.
2. Stop in the shade if possible.
3. A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.
4. Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still.
5. When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.
6. If the thermometer is 75 or higher, wipe him all over with a damp sponge, using vinegar water, if possible. Do not wash the horse at night.
7. Saturday night, give a bran mash, lukewarm; and add a tablespoonful of saltpetre.
8. Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.
9. If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over, shower his legs, and give him two quarts of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water; or give him a pint of warm coffee. Cool his head as once using cold water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.
10. If the horse is off his feet, try with bran, and a little water; and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.
11. Clean your horse at night, so that he can rest well, and clean him thoroughly. The salt dandruff drying on his skin makes him uncomfortable, and often produces sores under the harness.
12. Do not fail to water him at night after he has eaten his hay. If you don't he will be thirsty all night.

LAUNDRY MOVED WITH THEM

Washing Apparatus on Wheels a Comfort to the Doughboys at the Front in France.

A correspondent with the American army in France, while motoring near Verdun, met a sergeant who asked if he might ride with him to a pile of ruins that had once been a town. The chance meeting threw light on how a "doughboy" laundry operates. After the sergeant had entered the car he asked the occupants:

"You chaps ain't seen my laundry anywhere, have you?"

"Laundry? We didn't know there was a laundry in this part of France."

"Well, there is, and it belongs to us. At least it did yesterday. We've been transferred from the division to the corps. When I got back from headquarters the division had moved and the laundry was gone. I think they stole it. We used to be attached to a hospital; when they moved we hitched our laundry to a truck and went along."

"Your laundry is on wheels, then?"

"Yes sir. It needs wheels, the way this division is moving. Our laundry is a couple of big tanks on a wagon with a steam-heating apparatus. First we soak the duds in suds; then we steam them; next we bake them. In an hour everything is washed, rinsed and dried. When a bunch comes out of the trenches we give 'em new clothes and run the old ones through the washing machine; then we bake 'em and issue 'em out to the next gang, and keep things going. Fifteen hundred outfits a day—that's our average. Three weeks to launder the whole division."

As they neared the ruined village, he caught sight of the portable laundry, and with a "Thank you" he hurried off to take possession.—Youth's Companion.

TRUE TO TRADITIONS OF SEA

Bluejackets Would Accept No Reward for Their Part in Aiding Injured in Wreck.

Several Indianapolis men were passengers on the New York Central train wrecked near Batavia, N. Y. One of them, in describing the wreck, told the following story:

"When I got into some clothes and got out to see what the trouble was I was surprised to see dozens of sailors as busy as bees helping care for the wounded and making people as comfortable as possible. It developed that our train was carrying two day coaches filled with bluejackets, and a few seconds after the crash came they were out of the cars and making themselves generally useful."

"Some time later representatives of the railroad company came through the crowd settling with the passengers for slight damages. Some asked $50, others $100, and checks for the amount asked were forthcoming. One big man said that $100 would about square things with him, but added that the check should be made out to "those sailors out there." Accordingly the check was drawn in favor of the men who had been working like Trojans ever since the crash. But—

"The sailors refused to accept the money."

"The check was then turned over to the Red Cross to be used in naval relief work."

Uncle Sam Returns Glasses.

As several correspondents have already revealed by means of appreciative letters, the field glasses which the government was forced to "borrow" for the use of its sailors when it went into the war are beginning to come back to their original owners—and to come back almost infinitely increased in value by the marks of hard handling which most of them bear.

For thus these once prosaic utensils have been made into precious relics and souvenirs. Every mark and stain on them is proof that they have helped to win the great victory, and to have one of these war-worn treasures is also evidence that its possessor made a willing sacrifice, small but real, when a need of his country was brought to his attention.—New York Times.

Feeding the Doughboys.

Food stores for the army on hand in the United States, its possessions, France, and in transit to France on Jan. 1, 1919, were valued at $300,000,000. At the time of the signing of the armistice approximately 10,000,000 pounds of food were being consumed by our troops in France each day, and there were on hand in France at that time 1,000,000,000 pounds of food in reserve. All this food has been transported on an average of 5,000 miles. It is estimated by the subsistence division that 3,000,000,000 meals were served to the army during the nineteen months of warfare with Germany.

Average Life Nearly Doubled.

From 1848 to 1850, 25,000,000 deaths from the plague or "black death," occurred, which was one-fourth of the entire population of the world at that time. In 1761, 50 per cent of the English nation died before reaching the age of 20 years.

The average length of life in the sixteenth century was only 21 years, while in this, the twentieth century, the average life is 45 years. In India, however, the average life today is only 24 years.

We are enabled to see what the advance of medicine is accomplishing in our more civilized countries, where ignorance and superstition do not prevail to any very great extent.

RUDDY LOCKS AND COURAGE

Observation of English Writer is That the Two are Generally Found Together.

"Ginger for pluck" is an old saying which would seem to be confirmed in the bestowal of military decorations for bravery, observes London Answers. "It was in the ruined square of demolished Ypres last Christmas eve," writes a British officer, "that I was first impressed by the large number of red-haired men who were receiving the military medal."

"Since that afternoon I have noted the complexion of every officer and man wearing a military decoration, and the impression made at Ypres has been strengthened in consequence. There must be something in the old saying, for wherever soldiers are gathered together there is a red-haired, beribboned man in the midst of them."

"Take our most famous fighting division—the invincible Fifty-first. This is composed almost entirely of Highland troops, and the Highlanders are nearly all full-blooded blonds. Of course there are dark-haired heroes in plenty, but nevertheless red hair and pluck would seem to be synonymous. Red hair is common among our most daring armies, and although I cannot say how many holders of the Victoria cross sport ruddy locks I am prepared to wager that they form a large percentage."

"Scientists say that red hair is caused by a large proportion of iron in the system, and certainly 'carrots and freckles' have been worn by men of iron while doing the work of men in the devil's own war."

FROM COFFIN TO KITCHEN

Plate Placed on Casket That Held Body of Louis XIV Found Doing Duty as Frying Pan.

At the Cluny museum in Paris is a very interesting relic.

One day a few years ago the curator of the museum happened to visit a small restaurant in the suburbs of St. Denis, in which the same room served as a dining room and kitchen. While he was waiting to be served the curator was attracted by a frying pan of unusual appearance that hung upon the wall. He took it down, carefully removed some of the soot with which it was covered, and made out part of an inscription. What he found interested him so much that he bought the old pan.

When it was cleaned it was found to bear the arms of France and Navarre, surrounded by the chain of St. Louis and the cord of the Order of Saint Esprit, and this inscription as well: "Here lies the magnificent Prince, King Louis XIV, King of France and Navarre. Requiescat in pace."

It was the plate that had been fastened to the coffin of Louis XIV. When the burial vaults of the royal family in the cathedral at Saint Denis were rifled by the populace in 1793 it had been wrenched from the coffin, fitted with a handle, and turned into a frying pan. The handle has been removed.

The Warning.

He was nineteen years old and she was just sixteen. For a long time they had been saving their money to get married. When they together had acquired $100 they decided that they had reached the opportune time. So into Sullivan and to the courthouse for the needed license they hied.

As they ascended the steps of that building they met a motley crew coming down the stairway—a discontented-looking husband, a still more discontented-looking wife and five dilapidated, dirty children. The boy stopped, turned to stare at the girl and found that she was staring at him. Suddenly she laughed and tucking her hand into his arm turned him around so that his back was toward the entrance of the building. "Let's go back home, Fred, and wait until we've saved another hundred dollars," she advised.—Indianapolis News.

Placing Out Wool Supply.

All the wool grown in the world every year, if made only into clothing for people living outside the tropics, and not into horse blankets, carpets, etc., would provide fourteen ounces per person. That is enough to make one lightweight pair of bathing trunks extending from the waist to the knees. "Then, uncle," asked Rollo, "where does the rest of the wool we wear come from? Our coats and overcoats and blankets and woolen stockings?" "That," replied his uncle, "is reworked wool, or shoddy." "But surely, uncle," exclaimed the boy, "we do not wear shoddy, do we?" "No," said the honest uncle, "you and I do not, but everybody else does."—The Little Journal.

Paying War Debts.

There is no uniformity of action regarding the payment of war debts. Some war debts have been entirely paid off, and others have been greatly reduced. In 1793, following the Revolutionary war, the public debt of the United States was $80,852,634. It was reduced year by year until 1812, when it was $45,209,737. During the war of 1812, it increased until 1816, when it was $127,834,933. This followed a long period of steady yearly reduction till in 1825 it stood at the nominal figure of $37,512, with much more than that balance in the treasury. Circumstances brought a long period of growth in the public debt till 1868, following the Civil war, it was $2,712,236,173.

THE TRUTH ABOUT "ASPERIN"

Previous to the war the Bayer Co., of Germany enjoyed a copyright on the word Aspirin—which is a chemical known as the Mono Acetic Acid Ester of Salicylic Acid. As the various allied countries entered the war all German copyrights and patents were cancelled. Great Britain and United States declared a great majority of all German patents to be Public Property—this list including the word "Aspirin", the stipulation being that all products sold under the word Aspirin should conform to Government tests.

In Canada, however, we have the unhappy spectacle of seeing the Aspirin copyright handed back to the Bayer Company—the directors of whom are lawyers, stenographers, etc., representing persons whom they alone know. The Bayer Co. have no manufacturing facilities and as yet no one has been able to discover who makes and packages their product.

So while conditions are as they are at present, this store will not sell Aspirin (Bayer). We will continue to sell C. D. C. Aspirin, the same brand we've been selling during the last five years.

THE freshness, and flavor, of ANCHOR PLUG is not equalled, nor approached by any other chewing tobacco. That is why ANCHOR PLUG is supreme.

It Holds its Flavor

A healthy body means healthy arteries.
The railways are the arteries of Canada.

IN the operation of railways Canadians hold high reputations.

The chief Canadian systems are operated over great stretches of territory presenting widely different problems.

Their traffic obligations fluctuate rapidly with the seasons.

Climatic conditions are sometimes difficult. Unusual foresight, skill and determination are called for.

Yet the only unfailing highways for the heavy traffic across the New World from China to France during the war—were Canadian railways.

Canada alone among the allied countries had no war-time transportation crisis. When foreign roads choked under their load, she relieved them of millions of tons. At a time when ships were the need of the hour no ship lost time in any Canadian port through failure of the railways to deliver cargoes at the docks.

To-day the Canadian producer still commands the fastest, the most dependable and the cheapest railway service in the world.

But the foresight that made this record possible could do nothing without MONEY! The skill that kept terminals uncongested had to be backed with MONEY! The determination that drove crippled engines ahead in the face of 40-below gales and mounting snow would in the long run have been useless without MONEY!

Thus to-day the alarming fall in the net revenues of the railways is a menace to railway efficiency. It injures railway credit. It dissolves the reserves needful to meet the expanding needs of a growing country. It imperils national prosperity.

Increased freight rates are imperative therefore, not merely on behalf of railways but in the interests of Canada itself!

Side in the first of a series of advertisements published under the authority of The Railway Association of Canada
formerly the CANADIAN RAILWAY WAR BOARD

In July 1918 the Canadian roads were threatened with a general strike. To prevent this public catastrophe they agreed to follow the American scale of wage increases. The Government of Canada meantime allowed freight rate increases intended to make up the cost of these new wage rates.

Leaving aside all question of increased cost of material, the new wages cost the railways of Canada an extra eighty million dollars for the first year alone.

The new rates yielded them an additional forty-three millions!

The annual deficit on wages alone was thirty-seven millions and is constantly growing!

and told her to go home. The girl is still missing.

Welland, July 15.—Peter Rosser, with a badly lacerated leg, and Fred Hines, both shoulders fractured and deep cuts about the head and face, were rushed this morning to hospital ere they were riding on a work car on the G. T. R. tracks near Port Robinson, when the car suddenly jumped the tracks, plunging both men beneath. On the way to the hospital the automobile in which they were being conveyed also suddenly skidded on East Main street, this city, overturning but no one was injured. Both men are residents here.

St. Catharines, July 15.—An echo of the suspension two months ago of The Evening Journal, comes in the form of a writ in the Superior Court, issued by Geo. M. Elson against the trustee, claiming $7000. Elson claims he paid this sum for his brother, John M. Elson, the publisher of the paper, for wages and small sums covering a period of several years. There are 123 items. The trustee of the estate after the assignment threw George Elson's claim out. Efforts are being made to start the Journal under a new name and by a new company, outside capital being interested.

St. Catharines, July 13.—The steel bridge on Main street, Merrittton, over the Grand Trunk railway, was badly wrecked last night when it was struck by the boom of a combination digging crane and ditcher, which was being hauled beneath the bridge. When the boom hit the bridge the other end of the machine was tilted up also, tearing away a portion of the overhead structure. The machine was badly damaged and Arthur Sauve who was riding on the crane, was injured. All heavy traffic over the bridge is blocked, and through trolley traffic on the local line between St. Catharines and Thorold is hampered.

Beamsville Express—An aged citizen of Clinton township passed away on Wednesday July 7th, 1932 in the person of William Henry Stewart, aged 73 years, at his home in Tintern, after about two weeks' illness. The deceased was born in Moulton township and for the past forty-five years has resided on the farm at Tintern. Besides his sorrowing wife, three sons and six daughters, mourn a loving husband and father, Mrs. Frank Chittick, Eramosa; Mrs. John McLeod, Tintern; Mrs. G. A. Tiffin, Beamsville; Mrs. Perry, Silverdale; Mrs. Cromwell Post, St. Anne; Miss Marjorie of the Beamsville Public School staff; Chester, St. Catharines; Stanley and Harold of Kingston. The funeral was held from his late residence on Friday, July 9th. Evangelist Ralph G. Scheel, assisted by Evangelist G. McPhee, both of Toronto, conducted the services.

Beamsville Express—After a few weeks of great suffering due to the release of Mrs. Emma A. Davis, a highly esteemed young woman of Beamsville on Sunday, July 11th, 1932. The deceased was born in Beamsville in 1881 and was educated in the public and high schools here and attended the Toronto Normal school. On two different terms she held a position on the Beamsville Public School staff. She also taught in North P. Ham, North GRIMSBY and for the past twelve years had been on the staff of Earls Court Public School, Toronto. In June 1919 she underwent an operation and spent several months in the hospital in Toronto, returning to her home here early in April. Although not expected her death came as a shock to her many friends. Her mother and one brother Lloyd of Beamsville, and two sisters, Mrs. B. W. Grigg, Waterloo and Mrs. A. H. Dancy, Toronto, survive. The funeral was held from the family residence, King St. on Tuesday afternoon, interment in Mount Osborne cemetery. Rev. T. E. Meldrum conducted the services.

SHIPPING CHERRIES TO THE U. S. A dispatch from St. Catharines says:—Cherries literally by the ton are being shipped from this district to the canning factories of New York State. On Monday a truck was so heavily laden with cherries that the authorities at the Queenston Bridge insisted that the driver unload part of it and make two trips across. The fruit was being forwarded from the local cold-storage plant to Middleport N.Y. There is great danger of quantities of cherries going to waste. Purchasers who are willing to pick their own fruit can buy cherries at the orchard for little or nothing this week.

I have had experience both with the 'Prescription' and without it, and am in a position to know that there is a vast difference. I was never nauseated or sick at all with my 'Prescription' but I was extremely uncomfortable when I had not taken the 'Favorite Prescription'. I shall always take pleasure in recommending it to expectant mothers."

COULD NOT SLEEP

Halifax, N. S.—"I was in a run-down, nervous condition for over two years, had been treated by several doctors and only found temporary relief. I could not sleep at night my heart palpitated so, and I was almost afraid to close my eyes. Being persuaded, I wrote and stated my symptoms to the Medical staff at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. I was advised to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pleasant Pellets'. I did so with the very best results. I could sleep and became my natural self again. I certainly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all sufferers, for they have done for me what doctors failed to do and they have saved me doctor bills, too."

—MRS. JOHN ROMANS, Clam Harbor.

Toronto, Ont.—"For over thirty years I have been a user of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I have taken them for liver trouble, biliousness, constipation and sick-headaches and they always gave me the relief wanted. I am sure the 'Pleasant Pellets' have saved me many a sick spell. I can highly recommend them."

District Summary

Reeve Sutton of Port Dalhousie, stated Monday that he had received information that the Welland Division of the Grand Trunk, which parallels the Welland Canal from Port Colborne to Port Dalhousie, would be electrified at an early date.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., July 16.—The Canadian Militia Department has offered to the new Cottage Hospital here an X-ray machine, which the board has very gladly accepted. The machine is now on its way here, and will be immediately installed. The new Cottage Hospital will be ready for use by August 15, it is expected.

Beamsville Express—There passed away at his home just west of the village limits on Friday, July 9th, Alexander McLaren, late of Toronto and Cobden. His widow and one daughter and a son survive. The deceased came to Beamsville about a year ago, buying a portion of the Bell Farm and had been in poor health for some time. The remains were taken to Cobden for interment.

Welland Tribune—P. W. Wong, one of the most influential Chinamen in Canada, paid a visit to Welland last week. Mr. Wong, before coming to Canada was an editor of a paper in Hong Kong. He is a great educationist and his tour through Canada is to raise a quarter of a million dollars for the erection and equipping of a High School. In Welland he met with considerable success.

Eighty-seven cents an hour, an eight-hour day and time and one half for overtime are the terms under which the skilled mechanics on the Chippawa Canal enterprise returned to work, according to an announcement from the Government Employment Bureau, King Street West Toronto. This is a rate of wages which compares favorably with the wages paid skilled mechanics in Toronto and other centres of the Province. The bureau is shirking labor at these rates. The men are charged $8.65 per week for board.

St. Catharines Standard—Instructions have been issued to the contractors of Section 1, 2 and 3 of the Welland Ship Canal to proceed with the land work, according to Chief Engineer Grant. This work will commence as soon as the labor necessary is obtained, the work to be done on a 10-hour, straight-time, basis, and according to the Hydro scale of wages. The hour and wages, therefore, will conform throughout with those on the Hydro power canal. Mr. Robertson, of Quinlan, Doherty and Robertson, contractors for Section 3, is here looking over the work and making preparations to start operations, as is Mr. Russell, of the Baldry, Yerburgh & Hutchinson company, contractors for Section 2. The work at Port Weller and on Section 5 has been going on since May.

DEVOTION

A girl's devotion to the contents of a Hope Chest; the tender affection which is held in every heart for the things that Mother did; these are the features of the picture in which Dorothy Gish makes her second Paramount appearance at Moore's Theatre Saturday July 24th. The story tells of what might occur to any young woman but the situations are handled in such a manner that there is a constant suspense and wonderment as to what is to follow. The support is excellent.

COUNTY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETS

The Lincoln County Women's Institute meeting was held at Smithville at the home of Mrs. Lounsbury on Wednesday afternoon. Although the weather was unfavorable in the morning, the afternoon was charmingly bright and cool.

About 100 delegates and friends were present, and the meeting was opened with singing "The Maple Leaf". The District Secretary Mrs. H. S. Roy presided and Mrs. Dr. Zumstein of Smithville, acted as Secretary, pro tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Miss Sutherland of Toronto, who also read the Treasurer's report, which showed a balance on hand of $2792.

Reports from delegates representing the different branches were read. These were from Abingdon, Beamsville, Chippawa, Chippawa, Gravelle's Corners, GRIMSBY, Louth, Port Dalhousie, Smithville, Union Branch.

The following branches were not represented: Grantham, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Queenston, Rosedale, Virgil and Wellandport.

The subject of the division of Lincoln County District into two parts was suggested and after the pro and con of this proposition had been looked into it was finally decided to leave it over, as unfinished business until the next annual meeting.

Election of Officers

The meeting was then thrown open for the election of officers for the new year, resulting as follows:

President—Mrs. H. S. Roy.
1st Vice President—Mrs. A. R. Irwin of Port Dalhousie.

Life is Give And Take Proposition

Nothing from a community and give nothing back to help the other fellow make a living. If he cuts off the other fellow's living, he is bound eventually to cut off his own, for unless the other fellow has money to buy his labor or his goods he can not make a living himself.

You may say that what you buy doesn't amount to much and the money that you send away to the other order houses in other cities can not have any great effect upon the general business conditions in your town. Maybe it doesn't amount to much and maybe it won't have any great effect upon the community's prosperity in itself, but what will be the result if every person in the community, or half of them, or a tenth of them, take the same view of the matter. Your business, in itself, may not amount to much, but taken together with the business of a hundred others in the community, it amounts to a great deal. It amounts to the difference between a prosperous community and a "dead" one. It amounts to the difference, in the end, between good times and bad times for yourself and your own family. If you lived on a desert island, it would make no difference where you sent your money, because it would make no difference whether you had any money at all or not. But you are not living upon a desert island. You are living in a modern community. To do everything possible to build up that community is not only a duty which you owe to the community, but—more important still—it is a duty which you owe to yourself.

Taxes Will Increase.

You have children to educate. You want your community to have good schools so that your children may have the same advantages that the children in the big city have. If you live on a farm you need good roads over which to haul your produce to market. You may say that you pay your share of the taxes out of which the school houses are built and the roads constructed. Maybe you do pay your share, in proportion to the value of your goods, but where is the other fellow to get the money to pay his share of the taxes if, after you pay your taxes, you send the remainder of your money to some other community to help build their schools and construct their roads. The merchants of any community pay a very considerable part of the taxes collected in that community. Go to the tax books and you will find this to be the case. When the business of the merchant falls off and he carries smaller stocks and has less money in the bank, he pays smaller taxes, and as the amount he pays in taxes decreases, the amount you pay must increase if the schools are to be maintained and the roads kept up. It may be a man's own business if he wants to send his money to help build up the big cities where the mail order houses flourish, but it's poor business for himself as well as for everybody else in the community if he does.

Not Question of Right.

A man may say that he has the right to spend his money where he pleases; that no one can stop him if he wants to buy his groceries, his clothes and his furniture in some city miles away from where he earns the money to pay for them. He is right. There is no law to prevent him from doing so, unless it is the law of self-preservation. The man who has the right to send his money away to some distant city instead of spending it at home, also has the right to send his children to that city to be educated in the schools, which his money helps to support, but he doesn't exercise that right. He sends his children to the local schools, the maintenance of which is made possible by the men who spend their money at home.

Life in any community today is a give-and-take proposition. A man can not take everything and give nothing and get away with it for any great length of time. He can not take his

To be or not to be? To be loyal to your town and the community to support your merchants, thereby making Grimsby a better place to live in, or send your money away and demoralize the town and yourself. Be loyal.

OUTLAWS RUN WILD

"Doc" Alexander and his band of ball players from the GRIMSBY Club went down to ignominious defeat on Wednesday night before the hard hitting Outlaws by a score of 8 to 1.

A sorrell topped young heaver by the name of Wray Fisher, was ninety-nine and eleven-tenths responsible for the defeat of the Club. This young ball twister was right on edge and was pitching the brand of ball that would beat anybody's ball team. He had speed to burn and spectators close up to the catcher say that the balls were as fiery and red as the pitchers' cheeks. At times D. Fisher who was doing the receiving was unable to hold his speed ball at all and was even lucky to knock it down and then pick it up.

Fisher fanned eight men and only walked one, but this one walk proved disastrous as it caused him to lose a shut-out game. Up till the ninth innings not a man had scored on him. In this innings he walked Roy Konkle who went to second on E. Konkle's hit and scored when Farrell pulled out a two bagger. Fisher had wonderful support from start to finish, all the players being on their toes and working like trojans behind him, and how they hit. Everything looked alike to them. They gathered enough hits to last an ordinary ball team a life time, but a whole lot of them did not count for hits as fast fielding and remarkable catching were one of the features provided by the Club boys, even they did help the Outlaws to win by several bad errors. Dr. Buck pulled off a sensational catch back of third that robbed the Outlaws of a couple of runs. It was as nice a piece of work as had been seen this season. Burgess in the sun field for the Club nailed a high liner that looked like a sure homer, when he sprinted like a deer and grabbed it out of the air by his finger tips, and right in the glare of the sun at that, it was a magnificent effort.

McBride was on the mound for the Club and the old boy pitched a nice heady game, but the heavy hitting of the desperados, coupled with some bone head plays on the part of one or two of his fielders were too much for the "Old-timer" and he went down to defeat.

Some people describe the game as a "Blood Game" or account of the fact that it was a protested game originally won by the Club and thrown out by the executive when the Club protested the Club-Outlaws game a week later.

on the same grounds. When the two games were thrown out it left the two teams "even steven".

The game was the fastest played this season the nine innings being wheeled through in the record time of forty-five minutes. It was fast, terribly fast and above all was clean. There was little or no dirty work practiced and arguments were conspicuous by their absence. Despite the fact that the score is a little lopsided it is no criterion of the play, for there was not a dull moment during the whole game and the Club fought every inch of the way, as did the Outlaws and the box score will show that they had at no time a run away of it.

First Inning

VETERANS FIELD DAY

The field day held at Lake Lodge on Monday, under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary of the G. V. V. A. and the Boy Scouts was a decided success. The crowd was not as large as was expected, but those who did attend had a thoroughly enjoyable day's sports.

During the afternoon a large list of athletic events were run off and the War Vets Soft Ball team defeated a picket team by a score of 9-4.

In the tug-of-war the single Vets triumphed the married Vets in two straight pulls.

Refreshment booths and souvenir stands all did a good business and when midnight came were all pretty well sold out.

In the evening dancing to the music of Norton's orchestra was indulged in by the lovers of "Jazz" and everyone had a good time. The results of the races were as follows:—

Boys, 12 years and under, 50 yards—1st R. Farrell; 2nd G. McVicar; 3rd K. Teeter.

Girls 10 years and under, 50 yards—1st O. Hill; C. Hayter; C. Charlton.

Boys or Girls 6 years and under, 25 yards—1st E. Hoffman; 2nd E. Cornwall; 3rd N. McDonald.

Boys 14 years and under, 100 yards, 3 heats—1st W. Neal; 2nd P. Farrell; 3rd P. Swayze.

Boys 16 years and under, 100 yards—1st H. Allison; 2nd W. Neal; 3rd J. Pettit.

Girls 16 years and under, 50 yards—1st Ada Clarke; 2nd Ivy Clarke; 3rd Olive Cosby.

Scouts 3-legged race—1st Stewart and Theal; 2nd Hill and Tuppling; 3rd Hillier and House.

Scouts sack race—1st Phipps; 2nd Liddle; 3rd House.

MELANGE OF FOOLISHNESS FEATURES BALL GAME
Club 14—War Vets 8.

The above is the score of the ball game played on Monday night between the Vets and the Club. At least some people called it a ball game, but in reality it was a cross between a Spanish Bull Fight and an oratorical contest.

Arguments, fights and rosters ravings were all mixed up in one grand muddle until the affair devolved itself into a "maniacal melange of foolishness." The ball teams between spasms of arguments and fights on the part of their respective supporters played nine innings of ragged ball. It certainly was not good ball, but what else could you expect. On the form, displayed the Club played the best ball of the two teams.

It was only fair to the players on both teams to say that they had little or nothing to do with the disgraceful proceedings that took place and did not participate in any of the fracas.

Nuff sed.

"Doc" Alexander has found his bathing suit. He discovered it where it wasn't lost. Poor "Doc", his troubles are legion.

Beamsville hard ball team stacked up against a team from Niagara Falls. Y. in Beamsville on Thursday last.

SPORTY SPORTLETS

Fishers predominated at the Club-Outlaws game. There were no less than four of them playing for the bandits.

Wray Fisher certainly deserved a shut-out. The tow-head never pitched a better game in his life than he did against the Club. He had the Clubites at his mercy at all stages.

"Doc" Alexander tore about nine yards of skin off his elbows when he made a fast running jump after a foul tip. In order to get near the ball at all "Doc" had to jump along the ground for it.

Outlaws had more support from the crowd in their game against the Club than has been accorded to any team this season outside of the Club and High School. For some unaccountable reason the crowd has been very partisan to the Club and High School and this has made it hard work for the other teams. Wednesday night's crowd was pretty well divided and each team had plenty of rooters.

Ex-Chief Swayze has become a regular ball fan. He would sooner miss the sale of a house and lot than miss a ball game, and believe us he is some rooter, too.

Eternal Triangle—Club beats the High School 7-6; High School beat the Outlaws 11-9; Outlaws beat the Club 8-1. Figure it out for yourself.

The battle for the INDEPENDENT TROPHY is waxing hotter all the time and the picking of the winner is getting to be a vexing problem. Who will it be?

In perusing the score cards of the Outlaws-Club game we find that Fisher not only fanned eight men, but that only thirty men faced him during the nine innings. Up to the end of the eighth only 25 men had been in front of him. McBride on the other hand only fanned two men and 35 men went to bat. Fisher walked one man and McBride walked three. Only two safe hits were made off Fisher, while 13 hits were made off McBride. The above figures truly show that Fisher pitched and deserved a shut-out.

Incidentally run up against something they could not down. The score at the end of the sixth when "Doc" Alexander and "Stoney" Kidd became disgusted and lugged ye scribe away was 14-1 in favor of the visitors. At no time did Beamsville have a chance, and the Falls boys just toyed with them. The final score of the game will possibly never be known, as the score board boy ran out of numerals.

GAMES SCHEDULED
Tonight—Outlaws vs Stelcos
Friday—Vets vs Metal Craft
Monday—Club vs High School
Wednesday—No game scheduled.

METAL CRAFT CONTINUE THEIR LOSING STREAK
If Foxy Foote and his crew of gramophone constructors had all dropped dead at the ball field on Friday night "Chuck" Walker and his Metal Craft team might have won a ball game, but as Foxy boy and his bunch refused to bite the dust, the Metal Craft lads did instead to the tune of 15 healthy, luscious runs to 4.

Metal Craft at times played wonderful ball and they even had a batting rally of some extent but at no time were they what you would call a dangerous foe.

Astle and Walker did the twisting for the Metals and Hills as per usual was on the slab for the Stelcos.

Score:— Stelcos—41g 1121 010—15.
Metal Craft—301 010 100—4.

ONCE upon a time there was a peasant who said it was too cold to go out into the woods to chop logs for the fire, so he conceived the idea of chopping up the furniture. In a short time he had disposed of the chair and table,—then being cold once more, he took out the window frames and burned them, and after the window frames, the doors.

These being burned he was colder than ever, thereupon he started to tear down the house and burn it piece by piece, until at the end he had neither house nor heat.

The folly of this peasant is not unlike that of the person who for frivolous reasons sells his Victory Bonds which, by painstaking thrift and sacrifice, he acquired as protection for a rainy day. He is disposing of a sheltering roof and knocking out the door that might serve later to keep away the wolf.

A Victory Bond is Capital!

No prudent man or firm ever dissipates Capital, for it is the foundation on which prosperity is based. Anyone who dips into Capital for running expenses is courting trouble and possibly eventual ruin. Don't spend your Victory Bonds. To do so it is like burning down the house to keep warm.

MOTOR SECTION

GLARING HEADLIGHTS LAW

The regulations on headlights on autos placed by the Ontario Government in a special bill at the last session of the Legislature was supposed to have been effective on July 17. However, the law is not being enforced as the Department of Highways has not yet sent out the list of its approved lights or apparatus to dim and lower lights now commonly used. This list will not be out for a few days. The first list will be of Canadian manufactured lights and apparatus which the Government approves. This list is now being completed. It was suggested to the department that the list approved in New York State be used here but it was not thought fair to the Canadian manufacturers of these articles, and the Government list will place Canadian-made apparatus first. The department may also allow the painting of the lens on auto lights to keep the light rays down and the proper strength. At any rate, the law will not be effective until the department issues its lists of approved appliances and lights.

Following a copy of the Motor Vehicles Act, Section 4. This act was passed in 1919 and was to come in force by proclamation. It is now proclaimed law and motor owners will do well to govern themselves accordingly. This section of the act deals with the use of headlights on all motor vehicles and will do away with the annoyance and danger resulting from the glaring, blinding lights at present used by motorists. This section reads:—It shall be unlawful to carry on motor vehicles any lighting device over four candle power equipped with reflector, unless same shall be designed, deflected and arranged that no portion of the beam or reflected light when measured extends seventy five feet or more ahead of lamp and shall rise above forty two inches from the level surface on which the motor vehicle is standing.

SAVING THE GASOLINE

Probably the greatest waste of gasoline is due to the habit of allowing the motor of trucks and passenger cars to run while the car is idle. There are two other items that should receive consideration when attempting to secure fuel economy. They are the carburetor and ignition.

The automobile engine of today operates on a mixture which ranges from eight parts of air with one of gasoline to fourteen parts of air with one of gasoline.

The latter mixture, which is called a lean mixture, will give the best results. Despite this, many drivers use a mixture which is nearer the eight parts of air with one of gasoline. This is known as a rich mixture, and has a tendency to make the cylinders carbonize rapidly. A rich mixture also makes the engine sluggish and prevents the quick get-away that is desirable when driving in city traffic.

The richness of the mixture depends on the adjustment of the carburetor and the man who wants to be sure of the best results should have the job done at the service station.

Even when the carburetor question does not want to rest his case, for a perfect carburetor alone will not answer the gasoline wastage question. The ignition must be in perfect order. Cable connections at all points must be kept clean and tight. For without a large, hot spark the mixture in the cylinders is not completely burned.

Every waste of power is a waste of gasoline. The muffler on the modern car is designed so as to give but little back pressure, so no cut-out is provided. The exhaust carries out a large amount of unburned carbon and unless the muffler is cleaned at this unburned carbon will retard the engine of power.

Carbon in the cylinders is another way of using excessive gasoline. Scraping of the cylinders will relieve this. If the valves do not seat properly they will allow the fuel mixture to leak out.

If the clutch slips there is not only an enormous waste of power, but the wear and tear on the engine.

Misaligned wheels every motorist knows, wear tires rapidly. They also result in a loss of power. Another way to increase the amount of gasoline burned is to have your brakes drag. With the modern brake and its ease of adjustment there is no excuse for this happening.

The driver should let the car coast whenever possible, shutting off the ignition and pushing the gas lever back as far as it will go. With the condition of the gasoline situation to day, use kerosene for washing metal parts and around the garage.

THE OVERHEATED MOTOR

Overheating is a rather common complaint in summer, and sometimes, while no serious results occur, the motorist is delayed on the road and often required to spend no little time endeavoring to determine the exact cause. Because there are numerous causes, every owner should be familiar with the more common ones.

All makes of cars but two are water-cooled, hence we shall deal with water-cooled engines only. Naturally in such engines partial depletion of the water system means an overheated engine. This is more particularly the case with thermo-siphon cooled engines, which require a complete circuit of water. It is therefore a good plan for the owner of a car with a thermo-siphon cooled engine to see that the radiator always is full. In a pump-cooled engine there is more force back of the water and a lower level may be carried without the danger of overheating.

Leaks in the water system naturally bring about reduction of water supply and consequent excessive heating of the water remains.

Anything tending to interfere with the free circulation of the water through the radiator or the water jacket keep the jacket water in contact with the hot cylinders too long, resulting in boiling of that water. Obstructions maybe in the form of dirt or sediment in the radiator, disintegrated hose connections, which partially clog the passages; an obstruction of dirt or lumps of rusty material in the water jacket.

Running for too long a period in low gear, or even second, may cause overheating. This overworks the engines. Running on retarded spark, especially for any distance under load, as up a grade, will cause overheating. Instead of running with retarded spark in high, run with advanced spark in second slowly.

It is quite possible for the ignition timing to be wrong, so that manipulation of the lever will not advance the spark enough to keep the engine cool. This is a matter for an ignition man to correct, as it may be due to a number of causes, the commonest being a wrong setting of the timer or Mal-adjustment of the interrupter points.

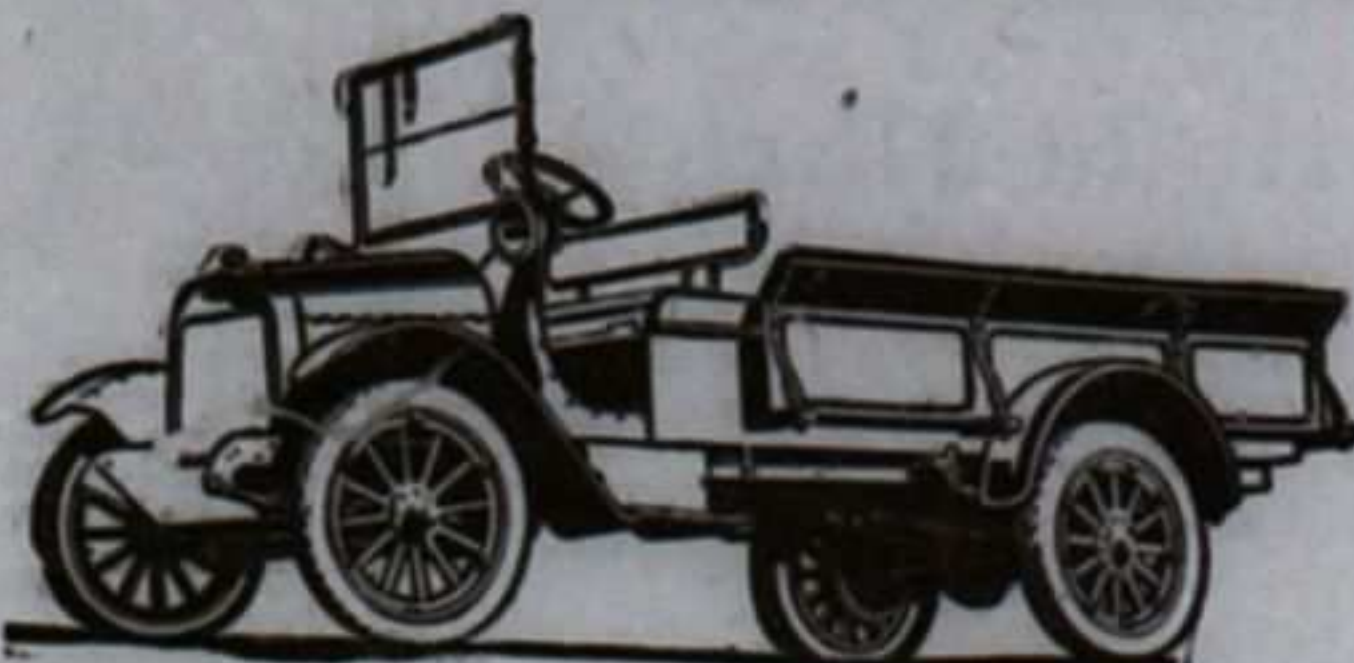

One of the commonest causes of over-heating is due to a slipping fan belt. It is absolutely necessary for the fan to cause sufficient air draft to cool the water as it flows through the radiator. A slipping belt reduces the fan speed and thus cuts down the draft. The belt should be taut but not tight. Tight belts usually wear fast and break, and they also wear the pulley bearings.

A bad mixture, usually a rich one, brings about overheating. Carbon in the cylinders also will cause the engine to heat rapidly, but at the same time the engine will lack power, knock and generally perform poorly. If you get the whole combination of trouble indicating engine debility and then get the overheating it usually is a sure indication of carbon.

Any drag on the engine, causing it to overwork, is likely a cause of overheating. When the clutch slips, the engine has to do more work to accomplish a given set of results; also when the brakes drag.

Giving Canada NEW Riding Qualities

IF the Overland only gave you the remarkable riding comfort it does, it would still be Canada's greatest light weight car.

But it does more than this—The Overland gives you the economy of 100-inch wheelbase from the moment you buy it.

Its 130-inch Springbase frees you from jolts and jares that annoy you or damage the car.

This means greater riding comfort for passengers and longer life for every mechanical part.

The Overland is finished in bright, weather-resisting enamel and upholstered with extra deep cushion springs. It is electrically started and lighted.

One of Canada's largest manufacturing enterprises builds this car for Canadians.
